

More than 130 years ago, our family arrived in the Alexander Valley with a vision of producing fine wines from the rich soils the Valley has become known for. As generations passed, our family stepped away from winemaking to focus their efforts toward cultivation of the land. For more than three decades we've produced premium grapes that have contributed to a multitude of award-winning and notable wines. Now, five generations later, we've come full circle with a return to winemaking. With every grape and bottle we produce, we honor the vision of our ancestors, and the heritage and hard work of our family

Coyote Crest is contained within the Wasson Ranch, purchased by our grandparents, Fred and Ruby Wasson, in 1942. It remained as open, rolling hillside pasture until they planted it to grapes in late 1970's. It's soils are characteristic of the eastern hillsides of Alexander Valley – rich in nutrients and shale-based for good drainage. Coyote Crest vineyard was named for the path walked by coyotes, year after year, from wooded canyons across our knoll to neighboring properties. .

Our Cabernet Sauvignon is a deep, clear color of garnet red in the glass. Notes of earth-ripened cherries and dark chocolate on the nose lead to flavors of blackberry and plum on the palate, before concluding with a satisfyingly smooth finish.
