

An old Italian farmer once said, “God created Dry Creek Valley so man could plant Old Vine Zin!” This 90 year old vineyard is on the cooler southern end of Dry Creek giving us a long hang time for fully developed fruit. Rich smooth aromas with just enough tannin backbone delivering a long smoky nish of blackberry stone fruit.

Cost: $ 42.00

Available: October 2016

Wine Information

An old Italian farmer once said, “God created Dry Creek Valley so man could plant Old Vine Zin!” Three different Vineyard Blocks from the same ranch (not allowed to say which one) are the magic behind this classic Zin. Starting out with lush richness of the valley fruit, blending in intensity, but not too much, from the hillside block. The combination pulls together like a fine meal, full rich smooth aromas with just enough backbone to deliver a long smoky finish of blackberry stone fruit. Dry Creek OVZ with elegance!