Hello again all my Trust Carolyn Club Members,

I recently realized that many of you have trusted me to select great wines for you for a long time now! Our eleven-year anniversary has just come and gone and I wanted to take a moment and thank your loyal support of my labor of love for all these years.

Each time I look around the tasting room I have to make some tough decisions as to what I want to send you. Of course the decision also includes a fair amount of tasting new releases and old favorites as well. Tough job but someone has to do it, right?

Sami, Bill, and of course Tim and Diane all help with the decision making process as well, and now that we are all finished with the process I am very pleased with the stellar lineup we were able to put together for you. While we can't please every one of you all the time...we seem to be doing a pretty fine job of pleasing most of you a lot of the time.

As we move into summer here in the Sonoma County, wine country walks through the vineyard reveal tiny grape buds already visible on the vines. Our local farmers markets are in full swing and the weather is amazing. It seems as if every second out of town visitor to the tasting room is trying to figure out how they can move here, retire here, or in some way spend more time here. It reminds me I am pretty darn lucky to call this spot home.

Some of you may remember back when we started the club we used to send a little gift along with your wines. Things got a bit out of hand as our clubs grew to be so popular but I would like to occasionally revive this tradition so to that end please enjoy a small token of our appreciation in this shipment.

I would also like to give you a little update about our website. I have decided that one of the things our customers like most is that we work hard to tailor their wine selections to their palates, and we can only really do that by talking to you by phone, in person, or via email. To that end our online store will be transitioning to something a bit more personalized as we go back in time to a place where folks communicated more with each other in the traditional sense. Stay tuned for these changes. Sami has also been writing on our blog about how she determines what visitors may enjoy in a wine....so take a look here tastelocalwinesblog.com and bookmark our blog for more to come.

Full tasting notes on the wines you are receiving can be found by clicking here tastelocalwines.com/tasting_notes. Keep in mind that many of these selections are in short supply so if you find something you love be sure to call or write to us at yummy@tastelocalwines.com so that we can save you some.

As always, I am excited to send you this collection and look forward to hearing what you think. Links to our recipe pairing are here tastelocalwines.com/recipes so that you can put your little gift to good use. Please also be sure to like us on Facebook here facebook.com/LocalsTastingRoom to keep up with all our doings as well as be the first to hear about discounts, deals and dollar shipping.

Your 45 day follow up discount ends on July 15th and we will be using cold shipping so feel free to order as much wine as you like. The one-week dollar shipping window is from June 23rd to June 30th so mark your calendars now. (Please note that the maximum order for $1 shipping per case is three cases per club member and excludes Alaska and Hawaii)

Enjoy all that summer brings your way and we will talk again in November if not before.

Cheers,

Carolyn
