Tasting notes:

Our 2015 Denier-Handal Petite Sirah is a full bodied, well-balanced wine that exhibits the best varietal characteristics of Petite Sirah. This is a balanced wine, the fruit flavors, tannin and acid all make this a wonderful vintage. As usual with this grape the first thing you notice is its brilliant, deep purple, glass-staining color shining like a jewel in your glass. The aromas are plums and blackberries with hints of spices and fine French Oak. Raspberries, black currants, and black pepper are the initial flavors with some of us also tasting hints of black cherry, figs, and cedar. The finish is long and enjoyable with hints of green apples. This is a typical Petite Sirah, brilliant, bright fruit, elegant with nice tannins that will age well. We always say there is nothing “Petite” about our Petite Sirah.
